Submissions from the public:

- 1. L. Lightfoot, a Langley resident, was in attendance and commented that previous Development Permits have had a condition of streamside protection and that this development does not have that requirement. This development permit does not show any authorization from senior level governments. She asked Council that appropriate measures be taken to protect this environmentally sensitive area.
- 2. B. Gardner read a letter from C. Grey stating that the applicant should provide a rain garden as a detention pond and questioned whether the Department of Fisheries has approved this development permit. She also commented that there is no plan in place for streambank stability and that solar power has not been considered.
- 3. T. Lightfoot, a Langley resident, was in attendance and commented that the plans provided in the report were not eligible, and that the time that these documents are provided to the public does not provide enough time for review. He further commented that there are salmon spawning in Gloucester Estates and that they need to be protected.
- 4. M. Innis, a Bradner resident, was in attendance and commented that there is another stream that is not noted on the maps of plans. He stated that there is inadequate stormwater management plans in this area.

The following written submissions were received from the public:

- 1. L. Perrin, a Langley resident, providing additional information for Council to consider with regard to all development in the West Creek watershed, and asked Council to refer this application back to staff to ensure the proponent is in compliance with all BC and DFO regulations.
- 2. D. Kask, a Langley resident, expressing concerns about protecting the rivers, streams, wildlife, and environmentally sensitive areas. She suggested a rain garden be installed as a detention pond for ducks, frogs and other wildlife that currently inhabit the site in order to protect bio-diversity.
- 3. C. Grey, a Langley resident and certified tree arborist, expressing concerns about stream protection and whether this project meets the requirements of the Sustainability Charter.
